

Description

RLB Echad LLC ® is an ethically based consulting organization, which provides business consultation to non-profits, work life balance coaching to leaders and religious advising services to for-profit organizations. We are sourcing business and religious studies interns to join our team, working to help non-profit organizations navigate tough business decisions, while helping for-profit corporations discover the benefits of religious advising programs. Our employees come from all walks of life and we share a commitment to helping our clients find balance and providing relevant consultation. Interns hired for our positions should expect to engage in their projects, learn about for-profit business models and delve deep into the uniqueness of non-profit structures. Also, everyone at RLB Echad® signs a morality agreement upon employment and successful participation in our program can be a powerful addition to any resume, in both non-profit and for-profit sectors.

Responsibilities

Business Interns – Analyze budgets, research business dilemmas and study project pitfalls to provide relevant recommendations. We follow the typical case analysis model where an organization presents a problem, you research the drivers and you provide a solution.

Religious Interns – Engage the personal dimensions of employees to improve their work life balance and maximize their value at work. We promote the pastoral models found in bible where a person is not judged, always treated with care and developed to be their best.

Requirements

All applicants should have comfort working in non-profit and for-profit environments. Applicants should also have a basic proficiency in MS Office. Business Applicants should be MBA or EMBA students while Religious Applicants should be Biblical Studies, Theology and or Psychology majors. Special consideration can be granted on a case-by-case basis.
